

Director of Student Ministries

The United Methodist Church of the Resurrection
Leawood, Kansas

Are you ready for this? The United Methodist Church of the Resurrection in Leawood, Kansas, has launched a process to identify their next Director of Student Ministries. This could be you! Resurrection, through their Leawood campus alone, serves over 3500 middle school and high school students, primarily across the southern portion of the Kansas City metropolitan area. You will love Kansas City, known as “The City of Fountains,” and home to the reigning NFL world champion Chiefs. As a visionary leader, you will faithfully steward a new season of ministry marked by sustainable growth and impact in Kansas City and beyond. You will collaborate with staff spanning across five campuses, living into the vision of compelling and innovative student ministry done in a strategic and unified manner. You will have the support of some of the most skilled and well-known leaders in Methodism with an accompanying responsibility to lead beyond the local church and help to serve thousands of other church leaders. Your knowledge of this emerging generation and your ability to communicate effectively with them, their parents and ministry volunteers will be assets for this position. If you are ready for this exciting, once in a lifetime opportunity, then click here to apply.
