Chicago Churches Relational Meeting Report

Report Introduction

This report provides an overview of the work of the Urban Ministry Area of the Northern Illinois Conference (NIC) of The United Methodist Church, specifically as it relates to relational meetings held with a selected group of urban ministry practitioners in the Chicago Southern and Northwestern Districts. The focus of the NIC Urban Strategy (US) continues to be aimed at building the capacity of local congregations to positively impact the lives of the people in their communities in the areas of:

Community Safety

Education & Literacy

Restorative Justice

Food Security

Since its “launch” in May 2013, the Urban Strategy (US) has evolved through the ideas, promotion, and participation from a number of sources including:

Chicago Churches Relational Meeting Report

The work of the US uses qualitative and quantitative information received from local congregations. Over the last 16 months, 2 comprehensive assessments have been conducted. These assessments have determined local congregations' capacity to provide ministry programs and advocacy relative to the four areas of the US. The city of Chicago, with 70 United Methodist faith communities and 10,000 members, is the largest city in Northern Illinois and has been at the heart of implementation of the Urban Strategy.

BACKGROUND

PHASE I – SELF ASSESSMENT AND REPORT

Phase I of understanding how churches are progressing across the four areas of the Urban Strategy was the distribution of a Congregational Self-Assessment during the first quarter of 2014. The assessment was disseminated to the churches on the Chicago Southern and Chicago Northwestern District, which covers Chicago and the Greater Chicago-land area. The primary foundational question of the assessment was, 'What is your congregation doing now and what does it plan to do in the future in terms of engaging the community across the four areas of the Urban Strategy?' In the second quarter of 2014, Forty-six percent of the churches (57) returned a completed assessment. During the third and fourth quarters of 2014 the information was compiled, analyzed, and a report generated. The report highlighted that churches are making progress across the Strategy areas at the following rate through the listed activities:

- RESTORATIVE JUSTICE - Preaching, training, study groups, providing resources, prison visitation, and legislative acts such as decriminalizing school misconduct
- COMMUNITY SAFETY - Engaging stakeholders, newsletters, block clubs, neighborhood organizations, youth programming, festivals
- FOOD SECURITY - Feeding ministry, shelters, food banks, food pantry, food drive fundraisers, job training, farmers market, affordable restaurants
- EDUCATION & LITERACY - Being present, celebrating, bulletin inserts, donate supplies, safe havens, classes, alternatives to detention & suspension, and letter writing

PHASE II – RELATIONAL MEETINGS AND REPORT

In Phase II, relational meetings were held with key churches that were identified based on what they reported in the assessment of how they were making progress across Strategy area steps based. The selected churches were diverse racially, ethnically, nationally (country of origin), economically and geographically. The US Planning team reviewed, updated and approved the list for visitation.

In March 2015 a letter of invitation was sent to the selected churches. The relational meetings were held from March through May. The meetings were with pastors and leaders to better understand their community engagement ministries and to see if they have any Premiere Outreach Program (POP). Each meeting ranged in duration from 1.5 – 3 hours. Please note that each church was visited because of the progress they were making in one area, however it became evident that many are making progress across several areas. Additionally, as many of the pastors interviewed were not the ones who filled out the assessment, therefore on some categories the information listed on the chart may not fully represent all that they are doing.

The food they prepare they eat. They see 40+ people each meeting from the church, community, and schools. The pastor then takes the parents for on-on-ones to determine what assistance they need especially in the area of documentation and immigration. They help the parents with necessary paperwork and then partner with JFON where a lawyer looks over the paperwork for no cost. REPORT FINDINGS

General Findings

- All churches visited expressed their desire to participate in future Learning Communities whether to learn, train, mentor, or volunteer.
- It was noteworthy that all churches reported having partners outside the church. Churches are working with Block clubs and neighborhood associations, ministerial alliances, the Chicago Police Department (CPD), and other public and non-profit agencies. Their pastors or leaders attend community meetings. They also are open to greater networking and establishing key relationships and partners.
- An interesting observation was many programs, some which have been in existence for many years (10+), are coordinated and implemented with seven (7) or less committed volunteers.
- Although the churches were selected based on the Strategy area they reported they were making the most progress, many are making progress across other areas as well.

Ministry Limiting Factors

Unanimously all have stated finances, building, and people (volunteers) are the limiting factors. Additionally they have stated the very same three items as resources that are needed.

Interestingly, the other resources they are requesting is for more information, exchange, partnerships, "best practices," ministry ideas, "how to's," training, and mental illness training.

For example, although Safe Haven via CPS has been talked about often, many did not realize that there are multiple ways to plug in and get involved (spring break, summer, year round). A request is to have someone check out their facility to see if it is "passable" before engaging the process.

Congregation Specific Ministry Limiting Factors

- Gentrification
- Immigration/Documentation
- Access to human services
- Need for clergy/staff help

Northern Illinois Conference United Methodist Church
Urban Strategy
Chicago Churches Relational Meeting Report

- Inequitable pay due to (demographic served and/or location of church)
- Burnout

Expectations and Hopes for NIC Urban Strategy

- “Where are the contact points of the community and the church’s strength?”
- Toolbox
- Grant information
- List of other churches with similar programs
- Black & Brown Dialogues & collaborations
- More follow-up
- At least 2x a year Youth Summit
- More actionable items (not just talk)
- Sustainable Action plans

Concerns with the assessment

- The people who filled it out may not be there any more

PHASE III – LEARNING COMMUNITIES, URBAN PASTOR ORIENTATON AND URBAN NETORK AND REPORT

The relational meetings identified a number of opportunities for the Urban Strategy. These include a need for mutual support, the need to develop sustainable actions plans, identifying more opportunities for strategic partnerships and developing an increased understanding of advocacy and organizing.

Limiting factors that urban congregations deal with in “doing ministry” include gentrification, immigration, competing priorities, facilities, appointment length, volunteers/staff and financial resources.

Northern Illinois Conference United Methodist Church Urban Strategy Chicago Churches Relational Meeting Report

Figure 1 to the left provides a visual image of the interaction between accountability and support. It is the goal of the US to be relational or to operate in the green section of Figure 1 where both a high degree of support and accountability is provided to urban congregations. The goal is to resource but also be result oriented.

Therefore over the next 12 months the goals of the Urban Strategy include:

- Delivering Urban Pastor Orientation
- Establishing Learning Communities
- Creating an Urban Network

In Phase III, congregations will be organized in Learning Communities based upon their giftedness and passion.

A learning community is a group of people who share common learning goals and attitudes and meet regularly to collaborate on their common field of interest. The objective of these learning communities is to build the participating churches capacity by sharing information, identifying resources, creating opportunities for partnerships, and facilitating mutual support. Four key factors of Learning Communities include:

1. Membership
2. Influence
3. fulfillment of individuals needs
4. Shared events and emotional connection

Participants of a learning community must feel some sense of loyalty and belonging to the group (membership) that drive their desire to keep working and helping others, also the things that the participants do must affect what happens in the community; that means, an active and not just a reactive performance (influence). Besides a learning community must give the chance to the participants to meet particular needs (fulfillment) by expressing personal opinions, asking for help or specific information and share stories of events with particular issue included (emotional connections) emotional experiences.” http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Learning_community

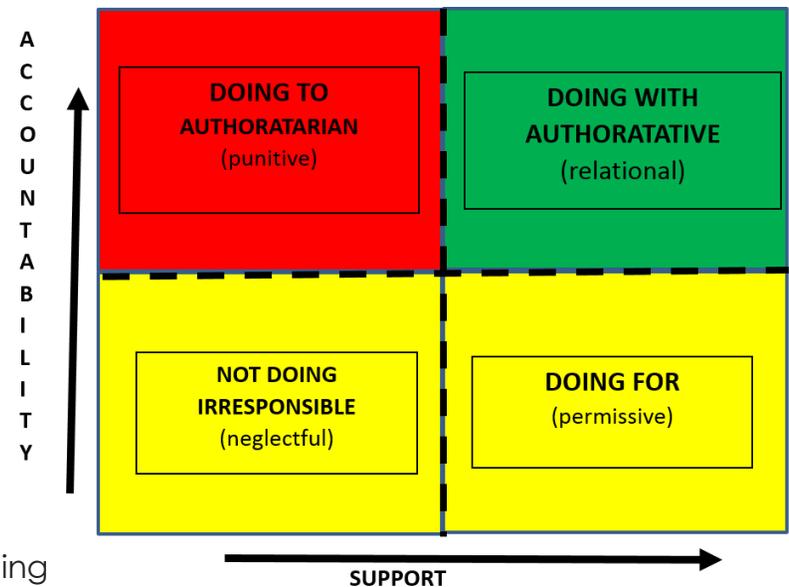

Figure 1

Northern Illinois Conference United Methodist Church
Urban Strategy
Chicago Churches Relational Meeting Report

Each Learning Community would be preceded by a plenary. In order to reach both lay and clergy Learning Communities would be planned on Saturdays. The following is an example of what a learning community around Food Security could look like:

- Bring in a representative from the Greater Chicago Food Depository
- Bring in someone who has experience at multi-levels of the Food industry
- Bring in someone who has experience with agriculture, community gardens, and green enterprise
- Bring together churches that are making great progress in this area so that they may share their story and program
- Invite churches who wish to grow in this area and are looking for ideas, best practices, resources, and contacts

The following is an example of a typical Learning Community agenda:

- I. Introductions
- II. Sharing (Relational Question)
- III. Presentation
 - A. Greater Chicago Food Depository
 - B. Food Industry
 - C. Agriculture/Community Gardens
- IV. Recap of ideas/best practices/networking
- V. Provide a list of resources (Compiled by Urban Ministry Specialist)
- VI. Evaluation/Feedback
- VII. Reporting and follow-up (post meeting Provided by Urban Ministry Specialist)

During Phase III of the Urban Strategy in addition to continuing the work currently being done, the focus will be on sustaining the current work of the US, organizing and supporting congregations for action/advocacy and creating an infrastructure to expand the work.

Urban Pastor Orientation

Another initiative that the US plans to implement is an "Urban Pastor's Orientation." In September a group (about 20) of urban pastors from across the conference with varying levels of years of experience and service in urban ministry context will be invited to a brainstorming session to develop a curriculum for an Urban Ministry Orientation Manual. A tool kit will also be developed. The initial orientation will be delivered in 2016.

Northern Illinois Conference United Methodist Church Urban Strategy Chicago Churches Relational Meeting Report

Northern Illinois Conference Urban Network

A passion for urban ministry is more important than geographical boundaries. Therefore, another aspect of the Urban Strategy over the next year will be to create a Northern Illinois Conference Urban Network. The primary purpose of the Urban Network includes:

- Providing a support network for urban ministry practitioners
- Facilitate organizing for advocacy regarding urban issues
- Recognize/celebrate urban ministry with an “NIC Urban Ministry Award”
- Connect urban ministry practitioners

The NIC Urban Network will encourage effective urban ministry with a congregational and community focus, which is holistic (spiritual/social/physical), asset-based, ecumenical, call-motivated and relational. With this in mind, the Urban Network will provide support/craft the Urban Strategy Learning communities.

Conclusion

The Northern Illinois Conference Urban Strategy has continued to evolve. It is significant that it has been issues (e.g., Community Police dialog, Faith in Action Assembly, promoting community safety) not necessarily ministry programs that have been most effective in drawing United Methodists across the city together. It is for this reason that issues based organizing is an essential for long term sustainability of the Urban Strategy. The results of the US Chicago Churches Relational Meeting Report has been invaluable in providing insight to the next steps in further organizing congregations and building capacity to meet the challenges unique to serving in an urban context.
